Tamarack

NORTH CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
SPOKANE, WASHINGTON

Foreword

This is, then, Progress eternal . . .
Working best for what we love,
Each step above the one before it.
Striving toward the stars above.

The theme of the 1957 Tamarack might be called "Progress," because within this book is not only the record of year of whirling activities at North Central, but also proof of the progress that has been made since Spokane's first school opened in the home of Henry T. Cowley, the teacher.

Here, in brief, is a history of Spokane, her schools, and the legends that make up North Central. Reading this, we can see how some of our traditions came into being, and we can appreciate more fully the many advantages we have over Spokane's first students and North Central's first class 48 years ago.

These, then, are the reasons for using history as the theme of this year's Tamarack. The division pages depict those early scenes familiar to the pioneers and the Indians who once frequented the dusty Spokane streets. A dawning of a new era is represented by the stars twinkling over the tree on the cover. A broken wagon wheel reminds us of other years, forgotten years, in which our forefathers fought and struggled valiantly for a richer education for themselves and for their children. Even the colors seem symbolic—green has long been considered a sign of life and growth, and yellow, a bright future.

"One generation passeth away and another generation cometh, but the earth endureth forever."—Ecclesiastes 1:1.

Spokane citizens have always shown a sincere interest in the educational growth of their schools. Because of the progress evidenced today in our public schools, we turn to early education in Spokane as the theme for the 1957 Tamarack.

Strange as it may seem, the area's first school was for the Indians. Spokane Garry, later a chief of the Spokanes, was sent to a Presbyterian school in Winnipeg, where he learned about Christianity, languages and agriculture. Returning here in 1830, he started a school near Drumheller's spring, now Euclid and Maple streets. There in a 20x50 foot frame building, he taught his fellow tribesmen about Christian ideals and the growing of wheat and vegetables.

The first school for white children in Spokane came much later. During the summer of 1874, the Reverend Mr. Cowley came to the infant town as a missionary for the Indians. It was in the Cowley home and mission that the first school for white children opened. District No. 8 was organized, with four pupils eagerly pursuing their studies. Mr. Cowley, Cyrus F. Yeaton and a Mr. Poole were the directors, and L. S. Swift, a lawyer, was clerk. Since no building was available, the students met at the home of Mr. Cowley.

Until the summer of 1878, it was not necessary to build a real public school house; besides, there was little money available for the purpose. Since Washington was not yet a state, the sections of land set aside as school property could not be sold. Then, many of the district's landowners were bachelors who didn't see why they should have to pay taxes to educate other people's children.

Finally, a one-room building, the first public school in Spokane, was erected near the Northern Pacific Railroad just off Lincoln street. A very crude structure, it was about 20x30 feet, furnished with rough, hand-made desks, a wood stove and a rickety kitchen table for the instructor. When J. J. Browne became superintendent in 1879, an enrollment of 22 pupils was reported. By 1880-81, the Reverend W. H. Stratton and Professor A. J. Warren were the teachers, and the total number had jumped to 45. The enrollment skyrocketed in the next two years to 200 scholars. Now, four teachers were needed.

As the school prospered and grew, a new building became necessary. On the present site of Lewis and Clark high school in 1883, Spokane's second public school was built, and an enrollment of 174 was recorded. W. W. Johnson was principal until 1886, when he was succeeded by Professor L. H. Prather. The lively little town of Spokaue was growing rapidly now. Two new rooms were added to the school. The primary grades were taught in the Congregational church on Sprague and Bernard and in a frame building on Post street near Second avenue.

The fall of 1886 saw an enrollment of 523 pupils and seven teachers. The records of April of the following year showed 648 students. Professor W. B. Turner, principal in 1886, felt a need for a monthly teachers' meeting to help iron out the problems confronting the instructors. The first meeting, in November of 1887, recorded 13 teachers for 715 children. By the close of the fall term in 1888, over 1000 scholars were counted.

In those booming years of 1888-89, Spokane saw selfishness, poor politics and corruption nearly ruin her wonderful struggle for education for her children. The school's study system fell apart, the building was nearly deserted, and violent quarrels over public offices took place. Some of the region's best teachers packed up and left.

Then, on August 6, 1889, wild, devastating flames consumed the entire business district of the pioneer town from Railroad avenue north to the river, and from Lincoln street east to Washington street.

Things started to look brighter for the schools when Professor D. Bemiss, a young man with new and practical ideas, arrived in Spokane. Breathing life into the dying form of the earlier education, Professor Bemiss took over the schools and conquered seemingly insurmountable obstacles and difficulties. Working in harmony with others, he managed to increase the number of teachers needed for the 2000 pupils, to make the system of study more organized and thorough, and to persuade the people to look to the needs of their future leaders.

The citizens voted to issue bonds to raise the $250,000 over the tax levy needed to provide accommodations for the students. Four large grade schools were constructed, and another high school, named Spokane high school, was built.

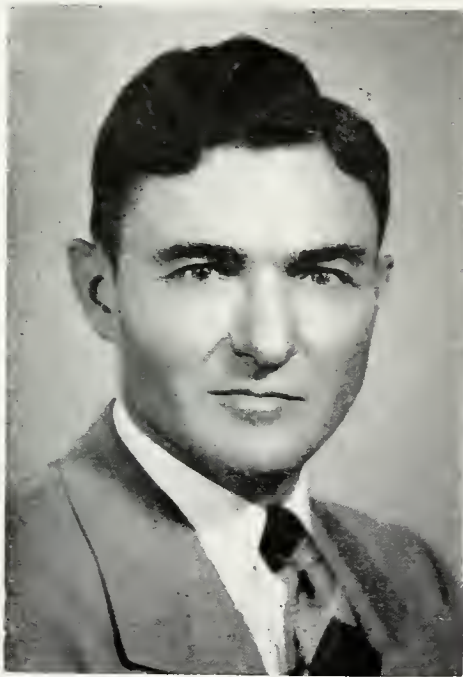

After faltering in her early steps toward education, Spokane picked up her skirts and trudged determinedly along, until in 1892 her schools were something of which to be justly proud. Now, entrance examinations into the best eastern and western colleges were not required of her graduates. The athletic program was greatly encouraged, and patriotism was given a boost as Old Glory was flown from every tower of every school house. Credit was given the teachers for their magnificent job in procuring higher enrollment, in harmonizing the classroom work with outside interests, and in the charming interest shown each of their students.

PRINCIPAL JOSEPH M. TEWINKEL

"Westward Ho, the Wagons!"

It is good to discover that the 1957 Tamarack theme is pioneer days in Spokane. These days are closer than they might seem. My father, left an orphan at seven, worked his way West in the 1880's and knew vigilante days, citizen posses, and the terror of Indian uprisings. He numbered dozens of Indians his friends and taught English to Chinese attracted by gold rushes. When we were youngsters, he would drive about Spokane on Sunday afternoons pointing out historical landmarks. The most exciting visitor to our home was Samuel Augh, a long-haired, white-bearded scout, naturalist, and geologist who had fought many Indian engagements.

The word "pioneer" has wonderful implications. The pioneer believed in law and order and felt that it was his personal responsibility to aid in dealing with wrong-doers. Today's exaggerated TV westerns distort Western life, but they correctly portray the willingness of every good citizen to back what was right.

The pioneer always wanted good schools, good churches, and a good community. He sacrificed freely to bring them into existence and to make the West what it is.

Whenever a community loses the basic pioneer ideals centering about the support of law and right, the maintenance of educational opportunities, and a man's responsibility to his Maker, it is on the trail to decadence. May we long live in the pioneer spirit in this fine community!

J.M. Tewinkel

Seniors, now we take our leave . . .

VICE-PRINCIPAL ROBERT J. HOESLY

Tamarack Day is a happy, friendly day, a day when some students soberly reflect upon their educational achievements of the past four years.

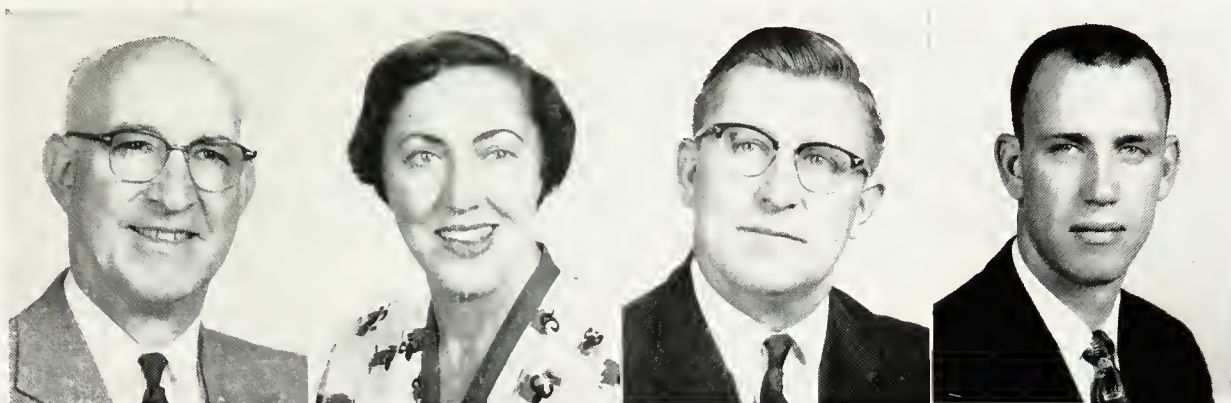

Americans have accepted the principle that young people are entitled to an education.

Education is a term which should bring to the mind more than knowledge acquired from books. It creates a sense of responsibility and the ability to work with and cooperate with other people. It develops both tolerance and appreciation of the people we meet in our daily lives.

May your achievements here reward you dividends in success and happiness in the years to come.

Robert J. Hoesly

Working together. Early lumber and mining industries, however crude, paved the way to a prosperous, growing city.

Every brave and maiden is a member of the ASB. Sponsoring a Korean orphan, FALL ASB OFFICERS — Bob Dickey, president; Terry Toy, vice-president; Brenda Hewitt, secretary; Pete Praetorius, treasurer; Tom Russell, fifth executive.

Main objectives of the Associated Student Body are to increase interest in school activities and in general school welfare.

The House of Representatives and the Senate make up the student governing bodies. Each homeroom sends a representative to House meetings each Thursday. One boy and one girl elected from each class and the Federation and League presidents constitute the Senate.

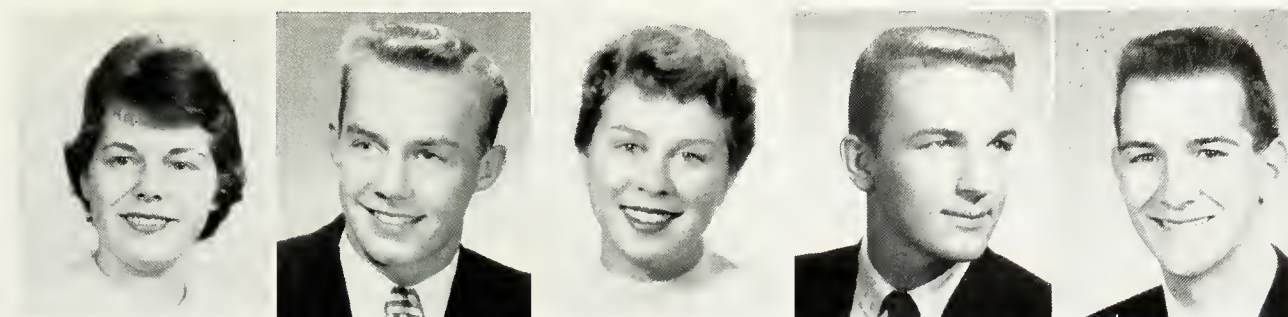

Standing committees, appointed by the president and the faculty advisers, include honors board, dance, convocation scheduling, election, finance, school and grounds, and scholarship.

Highlighting the first week of school was the "How Hop," the third annual get-acquainted mixer. On November 9, not-too-eager boys were dragged by over-anxious girls to the Sadie Hawkins dance.

which proved to be one of the most successful of the year. Christmas was a busy time as the ASB raised money for a needy family and staged an impressive convocation. The semester was climaxed by the "Winter Wonderland," a date dance held at the Spokane Hotel.

A new idea put over by the ASB during the spring semester was the Co-Rec night. On this night, the gym and cafeteria were open to all those who wished to take part in various forms of recreation.

Another new idea was carried out in the bulletin boards placed in each homeroom to display the student's activities. At intervals during the year, money and supplies were sent to Kwak Yong In, Korean war orphan, adopted by North Central. Later fancy socks and Bermuda shorts set the scene for the "Sock Hop," held in the gym.

FALL LEAGUE OFFICERS — Marilyn Lanphere, president; Sandra Glidden, vice-president; Phyllis Flx, secretary; Jacky Gerl, treasurer.

Every girl in school belongs to the Girls' League. Established in 1918 by Miss Jessie Gibson, the organization strives to attain the ideals of honor, service and loyalty as symbolized on the League pin by the American flag, a young girl's face and the Red Cross flag. Miss Patricia Damon is adviser.

Central Council, the ruling body of the League composed of the League officers and representatives from each homeroom, directs the semester's activities.

During the fall semester, the girls sponsored the Big Sister program, the P.T.A. membership drive, the annual Dad-Daughter banquet, the Lion Leap, the winter mixer, a fall style show, a college panel and Courtesy Week.

New activities introduced this year included a Coke party after school to promote a more friendly relationship among the girls; and a popular money-raising project in which girls had their pictures taken at Christmas time sitting on Santa's lap for a small contribution to aid needy families.

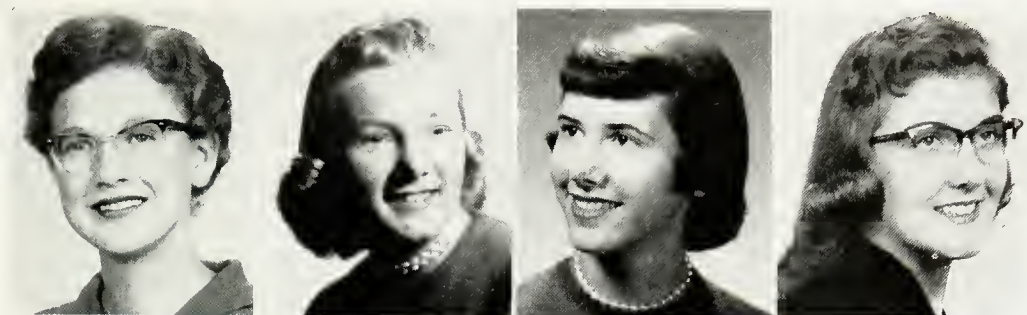

Fall League Committees — Dad-Daughter Banquet: Barbara Bailie, tickets; Charlene Slosser, decorations.

their participation in the many projects undertaken by the League.

SPRING LEAGUE OFFICERS — Dorene Hagen, treasurer; Janice Aaseby, secretary; Janet Schuster, vice-president; Diane Wood, president.

Spring semester projects included providing the League office with a clock, purchasing an engraved gavel for the Shadle Park High School Girls' League and adopting a child at Lakeland Village.

Annual Cotton Day, April 12, was highlighted by a mixer in the evening. The Old Gym, scene of the dance, was a bower of spring flowers forming a lovely setting for the gaily hued cottons worn by the girls. Other spring activities included co-sponsorship of the vocational conferences, a style show and a Mothers' Tea.

The League trio furnished entertainment for various convocations and school activities. Janice Aaseby, Shirley Eagle, Beverley Donley, and Marilyn Lanphere, accompanist, compose the trio.

The third annual Big Sister award went to Nancy Burney—the evaluation being done by her Little Sister.

Each girl earns League points for which she receives either a bronze pin, a silver pin, a gold pin, or a gold pin with a ruby, depending upon her record of service to the school.

Spring League Committees — Mothers' Dessert: Kay Minnick, arrangements; Arlene Noel, decorations.

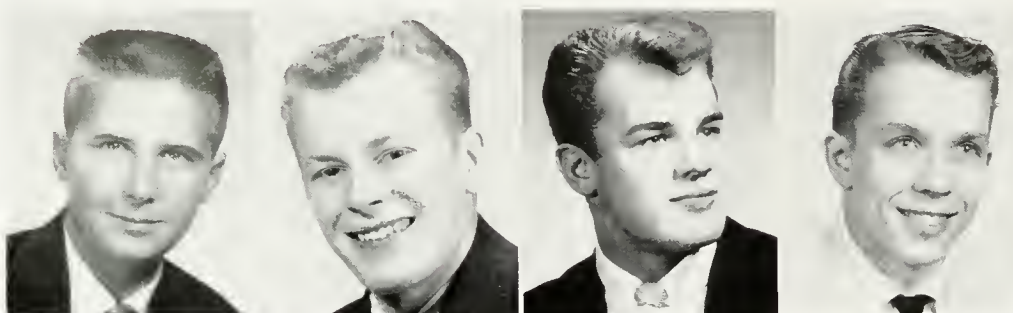

April Showers Mixer: Janine Gratton, publicity; Joanne Dalen, arrangements; Sheila Randall, election; Betty Rolfsness, decorations.

Vocational Convocations: Maxine Bowerman, Huberta Kinney.

Whether he be freshman or senior lad, every boy belongs to the Federation

The Federation, founded in 1918 by Lowell C. Bradford, is still under his supervision. This organization has done much for all boys who have been or are now students at North Central.

For boys new to the school, the Federation gives an annual stag party. The Archie Buckley Inspirational Award is presented each year by the Federation. It goes to the football player who has been the greatest inspiration to his teammates during the season. This year, it went to Dave Ricketts, senior.

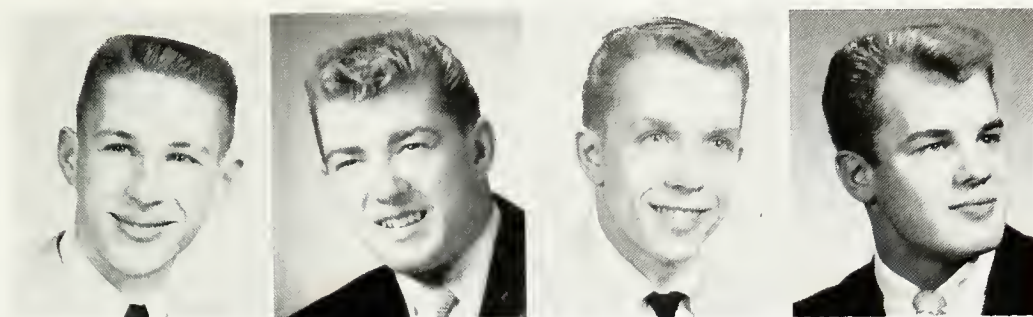

Courtesy Week in November, which included Chivalry Day and Tolo Day, and the Vocational Conference in March were sponsored by the Federation and the Girls' League.

The annual novice debate tournament, sponsored by the Federation, promotes interest in debate and in public speaking. A plaque is provided on which the name of each year's winners are engraved. A novice track meet during the spring semester is another of the Federation projects; and a year-round project is the convocation for boys, held each month.

which endeavors each year to reach the goal — better students, better school.

SPRING FEDERATION OFFICERS — Skip Perry, treasurer; Lanny Anderson, clerk; Gene Erickson, vice-president; Ron Quincy, president.

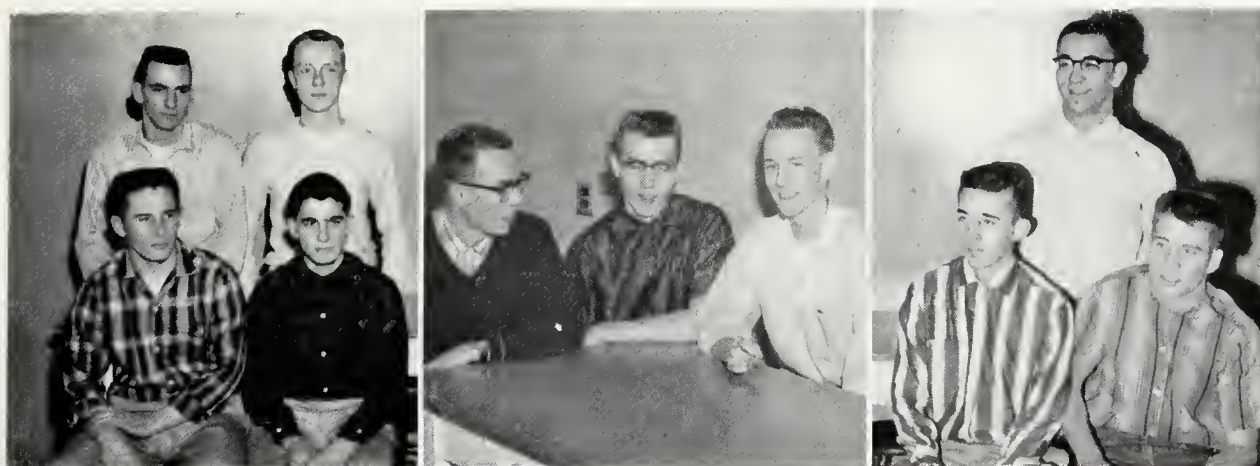

To give the boys experience in conducting elections, a precinct system, similar to the city election system, is used in Federation elections.

Each homeroom is considered as a precinct, having its own election officials, voting, and counting of votes. The four officials include an inspector, a judge and two clerks. The homeroom representative acts as the inspector; and he, in consultation with the teacher, appoints a judge and two clerks who help the inspector with the entire election.

The boys are required to register first, then vote, thus preventing any mistakes in the balloting.

One of the Federation's most important projects is sending a boy to Boys' State during the summer. At State he learns, by actual practice, how the government functions, and how it is connected directly or indirectly with Mr. John Q. Public.

Bob Dickey, Duff McKee and Ray Mason were elected North Central delegates to the meeting last summer. Duff was later selected as representative to Boys' Nation, held in Washington, D. C., in August.

Varsity debaters add more trophies to the growing collection.

Seated around the table are Howard Emerson, Terry Toy, Sally Akan, Duff McKee, Huberta Kinney.

Duff McKee points out helpful information to fellow debaters — Bob Dickey, Huberta Kinney and Sally Akan.

"Resolved to win many debates."

This must have been the resolve of this year's varsity Debate team, who won first-place honors in the Northwest District Tournament, entitling them to compete in a state competition at Washington State College. Second-place honors were awarded them at the Northeast Debate League Tournament.

Weeks before the debate league started, the debaters worked on the year's question, "Resolved that the federal government should adopt the basic principle of the Brannan Plan."

Practice debates were held under the direction of Arthur Miller.

Student Court enforces school rules and regulations.

"Not guilty, your honor," pleaded a "kid" brought into student court for violation of a school rule.

The judicial branch of the student government was headed during the fall semester by Judge Allen Goetz. Working for the students and court were: Defense attorney, Keith Anderson; secretary, Janet Schuster; Gary Burrus, prosecuting attorney, and bailiff, Thornton Smith.

Presenting the accused to the judge, Paul Knostman, were defense attorney, Ray Mason; prosecuting attorney, John Raymond, and bailiff, Gene Erickson. All the spring proceedings were recorded by Brenda Hewitt, secretary.

Chief among the violations was smoking within restricted areas. Students were sentenced according to the severity of the offense.

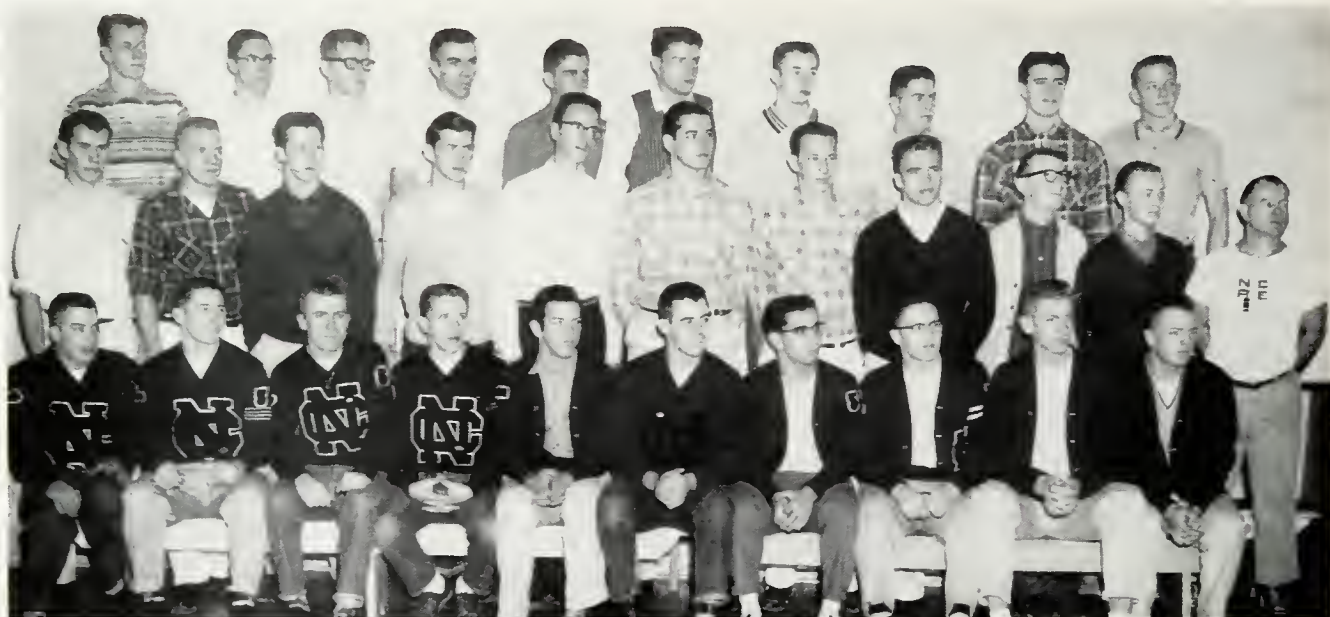

An offender is lectured by court judges, Allan Goetz and Paul Knostman, as Janet Schuster looks on.

Trade School Hit By Major Blaze

Spokane's eleventh three-alarm fire in less than three months severely damaged the upper floors of the Spokane Technical and Vocational school, March 14.

The News and the Tamarack are printed at the school, which houses the school district print shop. However, D. A. Townsend, publications head, said that the two schools "will continue "on

According to Mr. Townsend, the majority of the damage to the print shop was caused by water which seeped through the upper floors into the shop. "Firemen covered most of the machinery and presses with tarpaulins and lessened the damage considerably."

John A. Shaw, superintendent of schools, said that the roof, which sustained the most severe damage, "probably have been re-

What a scare! News and yearbook editors and their staffs had their hearts in their mouths on March 14 when a major fire hit the Trade School where The News and the Tamarack are printed. Damage was confined to one section of the building, however, and production work went ahead on schedule.

One would think life would be a "breeze" with this much money; but it proved to be quite a headache for Mrs. Savage, main character in the fall school play, "The Curious Savage."

Background of the single set used was a book rack filling the entire rear of the room. It was constructed and painted by the stage crew under the direction of Ken Mhyre, art department head.

Properties, many of them borrowed from class members, were handled nicely by Larry Kingen and his staff; and the faculty saw their favorite suits, dress and hats modeled for them by the cast.

As expressed by the cast, the many hours of rehearsals, work on the sets, and attention to many details all seem worthwhile, as everyone looks back to the fun and experience he received from "The Curious Savage."

performances with the lost boys, the animals and, of course, the pirates.

In the wonderful make-believe place of Neverland lives Peter Pan. This spring the drama classes presented the charming story for the Children's Theatre, with Glenn Bradley as Peter Pan.

The great challenge of flying Peter was met with a "home made" rigging and harness which worked very well. The masks worn by the cast were made by the art department. The set was constructed by the stage crew under Mr. Mhyre's direction.

The original script of J. M. Barrie was followed closely from the killing of the pirates to the shooting of Wendy and Peter's return to Neverland.

Once again this play, which was presented under the direction of Mrs. Oppen, drama coach, proved that both young and old enjoy it, love it and remember it.

"I'll teach you to fly!" laughs Peter Pan as Wendy listens in amazement.

Outstanding performances have been provided for both school and community activities again this year by the various music groups of North Central, under the direction of W. Stanley Taft.

The musical year was opened by the appearance of the Choir and the Three-Fives in the Thanksgiving convocation. Sixty voices strong, the Choir, along with the Three-Fives and Girls' Glee Club, participated in the "Winter Music Festival" in December and the "Spring Music Festival" in May.

The popular Three-Fives were kept very busy, entertaining for various community organizations and conventions.

An informal concert was given in the fall and a formal concert in the spring. Later, marching with their usual style and precision, the boys did themselves and their school credit in the annual Lilac Parade and Wenatchee Blossom festival.

Varsity Football

The warrior football squad finished the 1956 season in second place in the city league with an over-all record of four wins and four losses. Three Indian players were named to all-city first teams — Ray Mason, Ron Quincy and Ernie McLeish. The seven others who were chosen for second team honors were Walt Wilmann, Farrel Romig, Ernie Smith, Ray Mason, John Derington, Clive Goodman and Dave Ricketts.

In the annual Merry-Go-Round classic, the varsity finished third by nosing out Gonzaga 6-0 in the third period. Rogers topped the Red and Black 12-0 in the first quarter action.

quarterback John Derington passed to halfback Ron Quincy, who scooted seven yards into the end zone with just a minute and 31 seconds remaining in the game.

Gonzaga was scalped 25-7 for the second Brave win. After being held to a scoreless first period, the Indians tallied twice in the second stanza and twice more in the third. The Bullpups finally scored in the fourth frame.

Disaster struck as Lewis and Clark tallied twice in the last two minutes of play to upset the varsity 27-20. Only a second remained in the contest when Jack Schlangen of the Tigers passed to Gary Cogdill on the goal line for the winning TD.

Shrine game action produced another closing-minute upset of the Red and Black. As before, an aerial, this time from Rogers' Norm Harding to Art Anderson, accounted for the winning tally, which broke a 13-13 tie.

The Indians evened their win-loss record at three and three with a soggy 19-6 triumph over the Central Valley Bears. Farrel Romig, Ray Jacobs and Ron Quincy scored for the Warriors.

Gonzaga was the last victim of the Indians in league competition as NC dumped the Zags 16-6. Jim McBride blocked a Bullpup punt and Ron Quincy fell on the ball in the end zone for the winning touchdown.

B-Squad Football

Gonzaga proved the stumbling block for Coach Ed Kretz' B-Squad football team which ended the season in third place with a 4-4 record.

The Jayvees were hampered by tough breaks at the beginning of the season but managed to finish strong. The high point was their victory over Rogers, their toughest competitor, by a score of 20-0.

Outstanding players were: Dick Rockstad, halfback and co-captain, who accounted for many of the touchdowns; Mickey Carney, who made many tackles from the defensive end position; Larry Summers, quarterback, an outstanding passer; Delroy Thorpe, linebacker, who doubled at offensive end; Ron Albo, center guard, who added strength to the middle of the line; Gale Farrup, strong defensive tackle, and Bill Bailey, lineman-at-large, strengthening both the defensive and offensive lines.

Mickey Carney was voted the Doug Kramer inspirational award by his teammates.

Fresh Football

"The transformation from flag to tackle football is the freshman's biggest problem," in the opinion of Walt Spangenberg, head freshman coach. "Blocking and tackling make up most of the game of football. Although we finished in the cellar, I think the boys have learned these fundamentals very well."

The young gridders were taught the "belly series"; and by the end of the season, they were running it fairly well.

A look at the freshman record shows that the season was unsuccessful from the won and lost standpoint. However, one of the purposes of a freshman team is to start building for the varsity; and as Coach Spangenberg said, "The boys learned a lot of football this year."

The team scored only twice and that was against West Valley in their first game, which they won, 13-6.

Varsity cagers finished the '57 season in the city league cellar with two wins and eight losses. One triumph was over loop champion Rogers and the other over third-place Gonzaga, while five of the reversals were by eight points or less.

North Central opened the season with a lost to West Valley, 54-48; then lost another close one to Gonzaga the next week, 44-37.

Rogers was rudely awakened by a hard-fighting Braves squad, which won its first game of the year and broke a three-game

Lewis and Clark held on in a third-period surge by the Tribe to salvage a 48-43 win. Several times the Red and Black pulled to within two points of the lead but couldn't seem to close the gap any further.

The varsity gained their second triumph by coming back against a hard-fighting Gonzaga squad, 54-46. Gonzaga overcame a 21-9 margin and finally went in front 32-31 in the third frame. At the beginning of the final period, Harold Thorsen, Ernie Smith, Dick Hannan and George Solandros added a quick eight points to give the Braves the bulge necessary for victory.

B Basketball

Losing two games in over time and four by fewer than 5 points this season, the B hoopsters finished in fifth place.

Larry Summers was high point man of the team, having 22, 27 and 25 point games. Summers and Clint Britt accounted for 315 points.

"Our season was not successful from the won-lost standpoint," stated Coach Nip Hagen. "but I think the boys improved steadily from the start of the season. They will supply good material next fall for Coach Stannard's varsity."

Among those who saw a lot of action were: Larry Summers, Clint Britt, Jeff Kyle, John Evenson, Gene Robards, Jim Dewey, Walt Merrick and Mel Stapleton. Several others turned out, however, for the entire season.

Freshman Basketball

Although this year's freshman basketball squad had an average 4-4 record, they were real hustlers, according to Ed Kretz, freshman coach. "The games they lost were close ones."

"The morale of the boys was great," he said. "This team has produced the best North Central has had for some time. However, the majority of them will probably enroll this fall at the new Shadle High School."

Coach Kretz tried to use all his players during the season to permit each boy to learn as much as possible about game technique.

Varsity baseballers opened the 1957 season with high hopes and a bumper crop of returnees from last year's team.

Jacobs, Anderson and Romig were set in the outfield positions while Skelton battled with Fred Brown and Walt Merrick for the starting catcher's job. Pitching prospects included Zink, Stan Woodhurst, Rauch, Kolb, Johnson, Lee, Dennis Woodhurst, and Larry Summers, a promising sophomore.

The Brave diamondmen played seven warm-up contests before the regular city league season began—three with Mead, two with Wenatchee, last season's state champions, and two with Lewiston.

In the Wenatchee series, North Central captured the first game of a double-header, 6-5, with Larry Summers allowing eight hits. The Red and Black drew first blood in the second inning when Merrick reached first on an error and came in on Kolb's double, but Wenatchee scored two runs in the third to move in front 2-1.

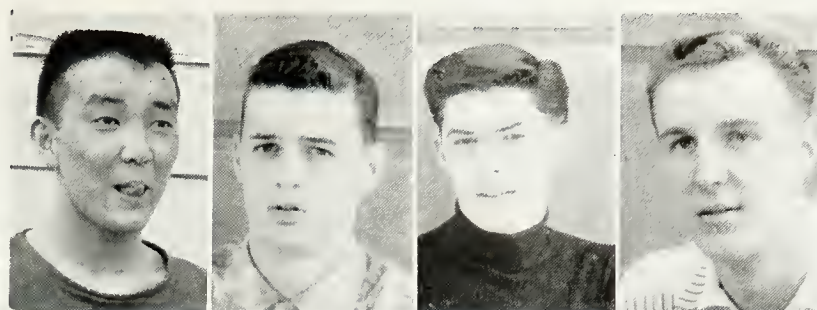

The Varsity exploded for five tallies in the fifth to cinch the victory. Summers started things off with a one-base hit and scored the tying run on successive singles by Anderson, Jacobs and Romig, who also tallied. Smith reached first on an error and scored the final Indian run of the inning.

Wenatchee battled back for a tally in their half of the fifth and added two more in the sixth, but couldn't notch the tying run in the seventh.

League contest began on April 17 when the Injuns opened the city loop race by playing Rogers on the Buc diamond. After that, they played Lewis and Clark at Hart Field, Central Valley at North Central, Gonzaga on the Bullpup field, and West Valley at North Central to wind up the first round of play. During the second half action, the Warriors tackled Rogers on the Indian diamond, Lewis and Clark at North Central, Central Valley on their home ground, Gonzaga at North Central, and the West Valley nine on the Eagle field.

Cross-Country

Repeating their previous efforts, Burrill Exley's varsity cross-country squad finished second to Lewis and Clark in the league schedule.

The Indians started off by whipping Gonzaga 21-38 (low score wins), but were beaten by LC 16-42 in their second contest. The Tribe closed the season with a 15-45 triumph over Rogers.

The Injun B squad copped the city title with wins over Gonzaga, 15-70; Lewis and Clark, 25-52, and Rogers, 15-51. The freshman squad also won top honors in league running.

The varsity finished second in the Inland Empire high school run in Moscow, scoring 53 points, topped only by LC's 20. In the AAU meet at Downriver, the Indian

Varsity Track

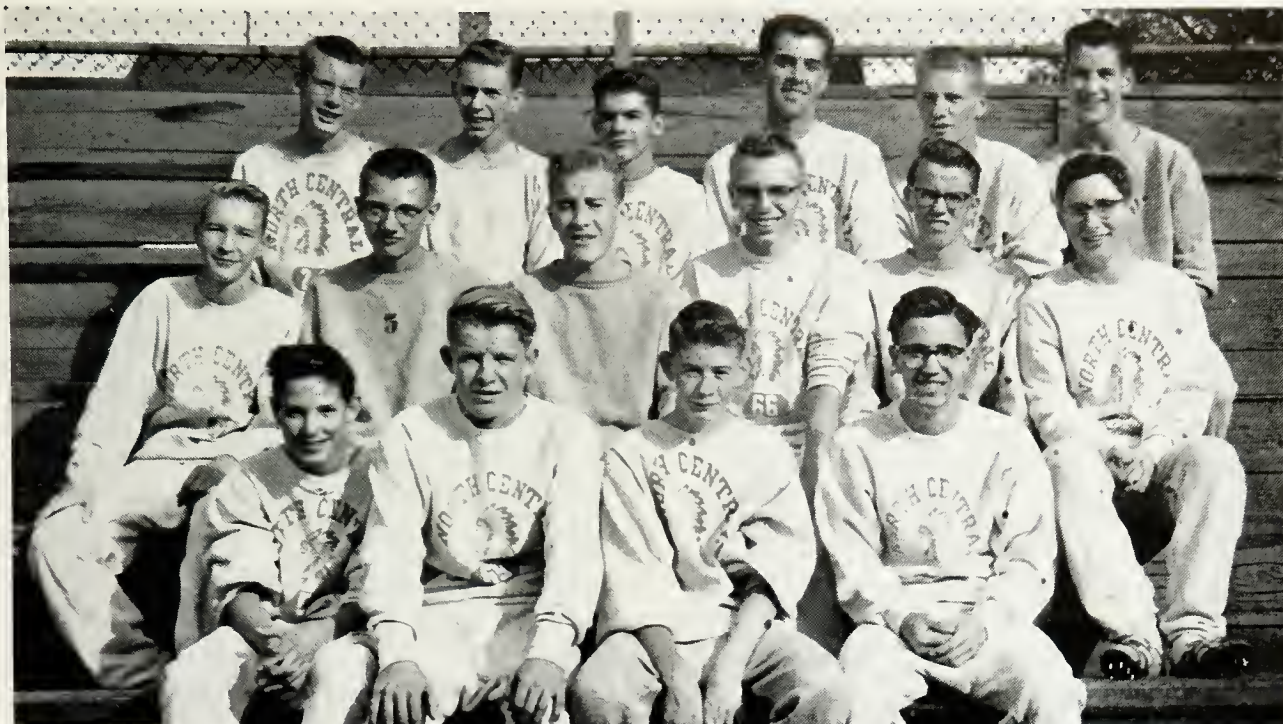

Coach Exley times track men as they warm up for a meet.

As the Tamarack goes to press the Varsity Track team has its full season ahead under the supervision of Coach Burrill Exley and Assistant Dale Blair.

The track season opened April 2 with the relays on the playfield. Schools participating are the all-city schools and West Valley and Central Valley. Other track events are the Moses Lake Relays, Tri-District Meet, and the State Meet.

Coach Exley was pleased to see the returning lettermen: Ron Barber in the broad jump; Phil Harris in the 440; Ron Turner and Ernie McLeish, the half mile; Dick Throm, pole vault; George Solandros, Bruce Reid and Bill Bradford, high jumpers. Gary Shinkoskey is back as a hurdler. Ron Barber as a sprinter, and Dick Baker, a miler.

Tennis

The varsity tennis team played double-round-robins with several near-by schools, including Mead, this year. Central Valley, however, did not participate.

Returning letter netsters were Marshall Reynolds, Gary Tewinkel, and Jim Price. Other top players include Erich Luschei, Bob Larson, Bob Rauch, Charles Hiatt, Jim McClenahan and Jerry Littlemore.

"Other fine boys have turned out," said Coach Ernest Hix, "and will be great assets to the team next year."

The annual Inland Empire tournament was held in May.

Tennis

Competition was great when the North Central racketeers began to "smash and lob" in the single round robin played with each of the four other high schools participating—Lewis and Clark, Rogers, West Valley and Central Valley. They practiced every Monday and Wednesday during period 6 and after school and "bright and early" on many Saturday mornings.

Fall semester co-captains were Franque Remington and Lyn Sisich; spring semester, Sharon Wing and Sharon Kinder. Recording the scores of the practice sets and ranking the players accordingly were Carol Jean Ellis, manager; Tarrell Hunt, assistant manager, and Deedy Gerl, Papoose manager.

Demonstrating her serve, Franque Remington hits one to the far right of the court.

Golf

Varsity golfers started their trips around the green in early April with a match against Rogers, followed by contests against Lewis and Clark and Gonzaga. The Inland Empire High School Golf Tournament and the Boys' and Girls' mixed tournaments were held in May.

Linksmen this season are Mike Hammond, Gerry Mehlert, Ron Vawter, Bryan Quanbeck, Larry Lee, Jim Ellsworth, Cap Amsden and Dave Wall.

"The boys are great supporters of golf and execute excellent techniques," commented Don Bonamy, golf coach.

"We invite every boy to turn out for golf in the spring," Mr. Bonamy said. "We play on all the municipally owned golf courses, including Esmeralda."

Girl's Golf

Eighteen girls, coached by faculty director Miss Wilhelmine Timm, participated in golf Tuesday and Thursday afternoons this year. The girls began playing golf at High-bridge recreation auditorium, where they received instructions from pro Neil Christian. Later the girls played at Downriver, where they received instructions from Joe Durgan.

Two tournaments with Lewis and Clark were scheduled in May. One tournament was a two-ball foursome in which both boys and girls competed and only girls played in the second event. A similar tournament was held with Lewis and Clark in the fall.

Fall captain was Karen Pickett with Marilyn Daly as manager. Captain and manager for the spring semester were Linda Schatz and Julie Wilcox, respectively.

Marilyn Daly drives a long shot onto the fairway.

Girls' Physical Education

Keeping physically fit and developing the proper attitudes toward good health is the aim of the girls' physical education department.

Volleyball, badminton, softball, basketball, track, horseback riding, swimming, ice skating, tennis and golf make up the highly varied sports curriculum.

A chance to participate in competitive sports is offered to girls enrolled in golf and tennis. Rhythmic fundamentals are taught to improve posture and gracefulness. Senior Red Feathers are given a course in first aid through the physical education department.

All-activity points are earned by participating in sports, special productions, community drives, and other department activities. A girl with 500 points is awarded a shield; 1000 points, a black star; 1500 points, a second black star, and 2000 points, a gold star.

A Football Princess and a Spring Sports Princess are selected annually from the senior Red Feathers selling the most tickets to the football and spring sports games, respectively. The Football Princess is presented with the traditional bracelet at a half-time stunt in the fall; and the Spring Sports Princess is honored at a convocation on the playfield in the spring.

COLOR GUARD — High steppers Janet Schuster and Lyn Sisich demonstrate their snappy marching technique.

Red Feathers

High light of the Red Feather activities this year was the trip made to Wenatchee to take part in the Apple Blossom Festival parade.

Organized in 1938 by the present director, Elsa Pinkham, the original 18 members chose the name Red Feathers to match their unique uniforms.

Colorful performers in football stunts and parades, the Red Feathers are active supporters of year-round sports activities.

Junior and senior girls must receive C grades or better to be eligible. They try out before a committee composed of their officers and Miss Pinkham, and are judged on their dancing and marching abilities and their participation in the physical education activities.

Color Girls

Color Girls accurately describes this peppy cheering unit, who add color, zest and rousing spirit to all North Central sport functions.

A vital organization in the student body, the girls promote ticket sales, march in parades, and sometimes appear in football half-time stunts. Sitting and marching together, they make a striking picture in their deep red sweaters with arrowhead shields, black skirts and spanking white shoes.

Organized in 1930 by Miss Bertha Boehme, former Spanish teacher, the Color Girl group has increased from 20 to over 80 members, to become the third largest marching unit at North Central.

Each semester tryouts are held to select new members. Mrs. Eleanor Beard, adviser, and the Color Girl officers act as judges as the girls go through routine marching drills and dance steps. Freshman and sophomore girls with a C average or better are eligible to try out.

Swimming

Advanced swimmers and beginners alike were out for after-school swimming. A record number—175 girls—turned out for the swimming class, which was held each Monday after school.

Perfecting numerous strokes and taking Red Cross tests highlighted the afternoons of swimming. Gym make-ups and all-activity points were given to those who took part in this after-school sport regularly.

The class was under the direction of Miss Barbara Simpson, physical education instructor.

Volleyball

VOLLEYBALL MANAGERS — On hand for all tournament games, Janice Botts, Cecelia Reuss and Arlynn Denny took care of all team statistics and scoring.

Six teams, composed of 175 girls, played in the volleyball tournament in January. Each team played five games.

Team 5, captained by Gerrie Welch, took first place with a total of four wins and one defeat. Other team captains were Diane Still, Janet Murken, Deanna Horn, and Rosemary Sleizer.

Mrs. Eleanor Beard was in charge of the tournament games, which were played Tuesdays and Thursdays in the old gym.

To prepare the girls for school teamwork, fundamentals of volleyball are taught in regular gym classes.

Basketball

"The Mob," captained by Sharon Kinder, won first place in the girls' basketball tournament in December.

Freshman teams were "NoCoHoSo," Judy Brown; and "Little Tepees," Colleen Wood. Sophomore teams were "Crazy Cats," Jackie McCoy; and "Hound Dogs," June Tillett. "Julie's Junior Jeniuses," Julie Wilcox; and "Junior Birdmen" represented the juniors.

Any girl interested in basketball is given the opportunity to play in this tournament.

BASKETBALL MANAGERS — Margaret Bruce, Cecelia Reuss and Sharon Witt check over team statistics.

Badminton

One hundred fifty girls turned out for singles and doubles in the badminton tournament in February. Divided into upper and lower divisions, the girls played Tuesdays and Thursdays before school and Wednesdays and Thursdays after school.

Winners in their divisions were Linda Poulin, Pat Beam, Joanne Bolma, Terrell Hunt, Roberta Warner and Sharon Kinder.

Play strategy and badminton rules were practiced by the participants.

Horseback Riding

Barbara Swanson prepares to saddle her horse as Marlene Bennett, perched on the stable fence, waits impatiently to get started.

Fifteen girls took part in the fall and spring sessions of horseback riding at Wellesley Stables after school each Monday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Beard and Miss Simpson, advisers, provided transportation to the stables in their cars. Learning good "horse sense" and proper equestrian etiquette was included in the lessons. Mrs. Ida Stevens, guide and owner of the stables, corrected the poor riding habits of the novice horsewomen.

Fee was $1 a ride or six rides for $5. All-activity points and gym make-ups were earned for each ride. Chairman of the group was Barbara Swanson.

Skating

November through March, every Wednesday at 2 p.m., the skating class leaves for the Coliseum. Forty-two boys and girls participated this year.

Qualifications necessary to join the skating class are two: Owning a pair of ice skates and having period 6 free. The skaters learn spirals, inside Mohawks, three turn, figure eight, pivots and Dutch waltz.

Girls earn points and gym make-ups for regular attendance and tests. Miss Elsa Pinkham and Miss Wilhelmine Timm are in charge of the group. Thelma Jacques and Linda Schatz were cochairmen this season.

Softball

"One! Two! Three strikes! You're out!"

Six teams of girl softball players met every Tuesday and Thursday before school in April to play a single round robin of ball, or five games. The girls met on Kennedy field at 7:30 a.m. and played until 8:15 a.m. Mrs. Beard, coach, kept all three diamonds busy at once with the help of the managers, Joanne Bishop, Sharon Witt, Margaret Bruce, Barbara Swanson, Lorraine Miller and Janet Eppley. The girls are trained to umpire their own games. Ninety girls turned out for softball this spring.

GYM MONITORS — First row: Freda Brown, Bev Aronson, Zaida Sly, Sharon Kinder, Linda Schatz, Charlene Slosser. Acknowledgments

To our advertisers, to Don Townsend and Carl Bridge of the Print Shop; Al H. Keigley and Pat Murphy, Spokane American Engraving Company; and to photographer Art Lacey, we would like to express our sincere thanks for their help "above and beyond the call of duty" in the publication of this 1957 Tamarack.

The Crescent Photography studio deserves a special vote of thanks for doing the faculty portraits.

For the splendid photography work in this year's book, we would like to thank faculty member George Smith and his hard-working staff of "shutterbugs." To Mervin Manuel goes a special bouquet for his advice on the art work, and to Sharon Lund and Joelle Lyons for their work on copy.

Last, but certainly not least, our greatest and most heartfelt "thank you's" go to our general adviser, Miss Mary McKenna, who worked so very hard in making this year's Tamarack another book of which to be justly proud.
